

Image not found or type unknown

Dmitrovskiy Dvor building supplies center

Category	Public Buildings	Authors Alexander Poroshkin
Location	Moscow
Year	2011

For Dmitrovskiy Dvor building supplies center in the north-east of Moscow the architects proposed several options for the facade design, as well as a clear functional zoning of the complex, taking into account the potential functioning options for the roof and other areas.

This will allow the center to become a convenient, modern center where customers can quickly find all required building supplies and equipment.

