The architects had to improve the embankment along Mira Street, which was an extended section along the Votkinsky Pond. Residential buildings with infrastructure on the ground floors and the Yubileyny Cultural Center are also adjacent to the embankment on the eastern side. The difference in terrain on the site is 3 meters.

The strategy of the improvement of the city is to create the main pedestrian artery along the embankment of the Votkinsky Pond, which is joined by the most iconic objects of the city, attractions, infrastructure and recreation facilities.

The project of landscaping the embankment along Mira Street is part of the overall development strategy of the city of Votkinsk. The design area is part of an urban walking route with a total length of more than 5 km. The route will connect ski trails, a beach, a cinema, an embankment, the Annunciation Cathedral, the museum-estate of the composer P.I. Tchaikovsky, marinas and a yacht club organizing water walks. The embankment is also continued by the Tchaikovsky Park «Seasons of the Year», which, according to the results of the 2018 competition, received the support of the Ministry of Construction of Russia and is now under development at the stage of a working project.
